BOYS & GIRLS CLUBS OF METRO PHOENIX WELCOMES MARCIA MINTZ AS NEW CEO

PHOENIX (November 4, 2016) -- The Boys & Girls Clubs of Metro Phoenix (BGCMP), serving Phoenix and the West Valley, is pleased to announce Marcia Mintz as its new Chief Executive Officer. Mintz was selected by BGCMP's Board of Directors following an extensive national search.

"We are excited to have Marcia lead BGCMP into the future," says Kevin McHolland, BGCMP board chair. "Her extensive experience in serving charitable organizations at all program, fundraising, executive and leadership levels – as well as her deep sense of commitment to the Valley's nonprofit sector - stood out among an impressive group of candidates."

Mintz joins BGCMP with more than 20 years of non-profit leadership experience. Most recently, she served as the president of the John C. Lincoln Health Foundation and senior vice president of community benefit programs and services at HonorHealth. She has also served as the chief development officer of Valley of the Sun United Way. Prior to that, she worked in the Bay Area for a multi-use residential and recreational campus and eight years in global program development.

"This is a tremendous opportunity to lead a great organization with a strong name and reputation for empowering youth and teens in our most underserved neighborhoods," says Mintz. "I look forward to working together with the BGCMP team and board, as well as local leaders and supporters, to ensure a successful future for each and every one of our Club members."

Mintz holds a Master's in Business Administration from the University of Arizona, Eller School of Management, and a Bachelor of Fine Arts from New York University.

She will replace Amy Gibbons, who is retiring on December 30, 2016, after serving BGCMP for 18 years.
